THE FACTORY

We handle development, sampling, production and packing in our own factory. The photos on this page show our sewing line, sample room and quality inspection.

Sampling and development

Our sample room holds patterns, materials and reference samples, so we can agree on the quality standard with you before cutting starts.

Cutting and sewing

Cutting and sewing follow a standardized process, so bulk production matches the approved sample.

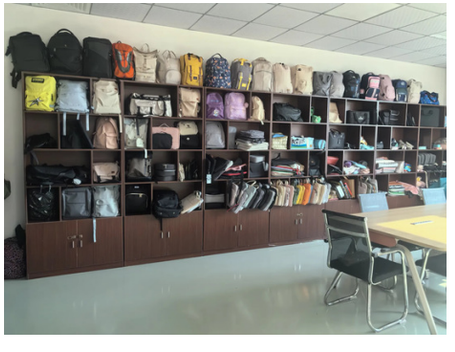

Inspection and packing

Finished bags are checked against the confirmed specifications, then counted, packed and prepared for shipment as agreed.

Bulk lead time is typically 15–20 days after sample approval and material confirmation, and is confirmed for each order.
